"The contest between Charley Johnson, the St. Faul welter-weight, and Billy Hawkins, the light-weight, of West Superior, before the Twin City Athletic Club for a $1,000 purss, last evening, ended very unsatisfactorily in the sixth round. Hawkins was the aggressor in all the rounds, and did some elever work. He got in clean hits on Johnson's face a number of times with his full strength, and twice floored him. Johnson, however, took the blows easily and laughed. This evidently discouraged Hawkins, and in the sixth round he pulled off his gloves and got outside of the ropes. His excuse was that Johnson fouled him in the sixth by hugging him. The referee decided that there was no foul and awarded the fight to Johnson."
